[ classic cocktails: the negroni ]

The most widely reported version of this drink's origin is that it was invented at Caffè Casoni in Florence, Italy in 1919. Legend tells that Count Camillo Negroni asked his friend, bartender Fosco Scarselli, to strengthen his favorite cocktail – the Americano – by replacing the soda water with gin. Scarselli added an orange garnish, rather than the lemon you'd usually get with an Americano, and the drink took off. Before long, everyone was coming into the bar for a 'Negroni.'

[ classic cocktails: the manhattan ]

By one account it was invented in the 1860s by a bartender named Black at a bar on Broadway near Houston Street. The original "Manhattan cocktail" was a mix of "American Whiskey, Italian Vermouth and Angostura bitters". During Prohibition (1920-1933) Canadian whisky was primarily used because it was available.

[ classic cocktails: the martini ]

Barnaby Conrad III, author of a book on the Martini's origin, claims that the drink was, in fact, invented in San Francisco, after a miner requested a pick-me-up in the city on his way to Martinez. There are also assertions that it originated in New York's Knickerbocker Hotel. Still others assert that the drink was named after "Martini & Rossi" vermouth, which was first created in the mid-1800s. Apparently in the interest of brevity, the drink became known as the "Martini."
